Could this model work in other cities, such as Edmonton,authentic baseball jersey, where Oilers own Daryl Katz has talked about building a new downtown arena district? COLUMBUS,majestic mlb jersey, OHIO – On the downtown edge of an unheralded American city, a beacon shines,yankees jersey, drawing people toward the area's clubs, restaurants, customize baseball jersey, nike football jersey, theatres and sports facilities, but also giving cheer to urban planners, downtown boosters and arena builders across North America. The downtown streets of Columbus, the pleasant state capital of Ohio — a city of two million, the 32nd-largest metro area in the United States — are busy enough with office and government workers by day. But much of the downtown is empty at night, lifeless in a way that will be familiar to most Canadians, all of us who don't live in Toronto, harvard basketball jersey, Montreal or Vancouver. There's no place to go in downtown Columbus at night, nowhere to live, no one to see, nothing to do. The exception is the Columbus Arena District, home of the gigantic searchlight that beams up through the dark, nike jersey, emanating from a 40-metre-high tower on top of the $175-million US Nationwide Arena, authentic nba jerseys cheap, home of the NHL's Columbus Blue Jackets. The arena is the centrepiece of the district, which also boasts roughly $1 billion in development — numerous bars and restaurants, nba replica jersey, Celtics Jerseys, an 11-theatre multiplex, a new award-winning triple-A baseball park, luxury apartments and condominiums, and the LC Pavilion, an award-winning indoor/outdoor concert hall, which can open to host 5,000 fans in an outdoor amphitheatre. The district is adored by folks in Columbus, who credit it with revitalizing the city's downtown, bringing it a new feeling of cool and prosperity. But it's equally adored by civic boosters and urban development wonks, nike pro combat jerseys 2011, who argue that it's proof that a downtown sports arena can be more than just a money-making machine for a pro sports owner — that it can also be a catalyst for the redevelopment of a blighted downtown area and a key investment in a city's long-term economic health. Outsiders are fascinated by the district's success. In 2004, usc football jersey, ESPN magazine voted it the No. 2 “stadium experience” in North America. Sports fans Andrew Kulyk and Peter Farrell, who have visited and rated every major North American arena and stadium, old school basketball jerseys, gave it a rave review. “Columbus did it right,” Kulyk and Farrell wrote on their website, The Ultimate Sports Road Trip. “A privately built arena with a dynamic cityscape built around it. “Clearly this is one of the premier, if not THE best setup in the NHL. Cities looking to build a sports venue and companion private development to create vibrant urban synergies need look no farther than Columbus to see how it should be done.” Academics are also positive about the district. Brad Humphries, White Sox Jerseys, a University of Alberta sports economist, and his colleague Xia Feng report that in 2000 alone — the year the arena opened and little else had been built in the district — property values within a mile (1.6 kilometres) of the arena went up by more than $200 million, an early signal of the enthusiasm locals had for the new downtown.
